

These studly backpackers are eager to hit the trail ...

... and they can't wait forever!
Soon they'll be ambling off to an incredible alpine campsite at Hilton Lakes!

*RSVP by June 15
so you too can be part of it all!*

Remember: If you don't come along, they'll be talking about you just as soon as they finish telling all those pathetic, completely implausible stories about women!

OK, OK ... so they'll never get around to talking about you, but don't you want to be part of the incredible BS around the campfire? Isn't there a rainbow trout up there with your name on it? And don't you have a tune you're itching to belt out but can't because you've been living a repressed life of drab, regimented professionalism?

*Join your buddies!
Back Pack '97!
Be there!*
